

The Royal Society of Biology

Research Communication Newsletter

A collection of online information and opinion pieces.

March 2020

This newsletter provides links to published news articles, preserving the original title and summary line. Views or opinions presented are those of the original author(s) and do not necessarily represent the views of the Royal Society of Biology.

Top story(ies)

Publishers make coronavirus \(COVID-19\) content freely available and reusable

COVID-19 Bulletin

For further detail on COVID-19 research, news and updates, RSB has developed a periodic bulletin collating some of the bioscience behind the outbreak and response, see our webpages for further information.

Royal Society of Biology news

UKRI Open Access Review Consultation

UKRI is reviewing its open access policies for peer-reviewed research articles and academic books that result from research supported by UKRI. UKRI will review and develop its open access policies to ensure policy is joined up across UKRI constituent bodies, encourage the development of new models of open access publishing and support the adoption of open access through collaboration and alignment with national and international partners. The RSB response to this consultation is currently in draft. Please contact consultation@rsb.org.uk for more information and if you would like to contribute.

Closes: 29 May 2020

Spotlight on open access debate

Open Access and Plan S: 5 key activities

Subscribe to Open: A Mutual Assurance Approach to Open Access

Publishers roll out alternative routes to open access

Springer Nature achieves new milestone in 2019 in publishing over 100,000 OA articles in one year, and is the largest OA publisher of primary research

Wiley strikes 'read-and-publish' deal with UK universities

Four-year deal with Wiley hailed as 'step-change' moment in switch to open-access publishing

The "Pure Publish" Agreement

Publication policy and debate

Guest Post — Report: Gender Diversity in Research is Improving, But We Still Have Work To Do

Hundreds of scientists have peer-reviewed for predatory journals

Many of these titles have some editorial oversight — but the quality of reviews is in question.

UK universities ‘paid big publishers £1 billion’ in past decade

Huge bill for journal access revealed as UK institutions begin strategy talks over Elsevier renewal deal

How to Improve Academic Publishing for Early Career Researchers: Our Letter to the Editor

Unlock ways to share data on peer review

Journals, funders and scholars must work together to create an infrastructure to study peer review.

In praise of replication studies and null results

More funders and publishers must support such work and emphasize its value to the research community.

International publishing

China increases remote access to scientific information for students in response to Coronavirus lock down

New Chinese Policy Could Reshape Global STM Publishing

French National Fund for Open Science support to three international infrastructures

Scholars in poorer states should pay less to publish, funders say

High APCs are a barrier to academics in low- and middle-income countries, says Coalition S

White House formally invites public comment on open-access policies

First US-based university press signs Jisc transitional open access agreement for UK higher education

Metrics

New: Journal Metrics for Editors With Wiley Journal Insights

Publication ethics

Editor’s investigation reveals missing and suspicious data

Researchers must be prepared to share their raw data if their work is to be considered scientifically sound, says geneticist

Click here to unsubscribe from this publication

Or, manage your subscription to this and to other RSB publications by signing in (or register for free if you don't have an account) to mySociety and selecting 'My Subscriptions' under 'Me and the RSB', then scroll through the options and select 'Research Communications Newsletter'.

Royal Society of Biology
Science Policy Team
1 Naoroji Street
London
WC1X 0GB
policy@rsb.org.uk

Please note that any views or opinions presented in this email are solely those of the author and do not necessarily represent those of the Royal Society of Biology.

---

© Royal Society of Biology 2020. Registered Charity Number: 277981
1 Naoroji Street, London, WC1X 0GB